Atracities and Butcheries of the Spanish

Volunteers. Washington, July 29.—An interesting letter, relative to the Cuban situation, has come to light. A Spanish gentleman went out to Cuba several months ago to claim an inheri-tance that had been left him, and he says that at Nucvitas he learned that modest appearance. Wishing to see what was about to be done he followed the soldiers, who arrived before the door, halted, and three of the last night, died at ten o'clockparty entered. The latter cried out, at this moment, "Here's the insurrecto!" "Here's the Mammbi!": "What do you wish?" said a young man; "if it is I for whom you search, I am at your service; but do not to Washington yesterday, having com-frighten my father and mother." pleted his investigation here. Without ceremony the volunteers seized the speaker, and beating him along the road with the butis of their muskets until they got close to the

Again, grumbling at the result of the Virginia election, he thus howls, denounces and threatens:

Still, while the Chief Justice plots to bring rebels into power, this shiftless and incapable Administration allows State after State to slip out of its hands. It is time some one should sound a note of warning. We gave Johnson six months trial, and are willing to wait as long for Grant. We mean, therefore, to express now only our serious fears, not our settled tration at the country, we trembied a such proof of his infliness for his grea-place. And every hour's experience will that Administration has increased our fears. What we demand of the thought fears. What we demand of the Indigitiess and timid men who made a mere camp captain of our President, is that they save us from the consequences of their mistake by surrounding him with men who comprehend the hour and are brave enough to meet it. Gen. Grant has all the physical courage that the Virginia campaign of 1865 needed. He has shown himself too weak and irresolute to conduct the Virginia campaign of 1860.
